

Thank God for free enterprise

To the editor:

A remodeling of Horizon Screen Printing and Horizon Promotional Products at 430 Broadway in Cape Girardeau required a complete upgrade of our electrical system. The upgrade would normally require 2 to 2 1/2 days during the workweek. Such a disruption would cause us to lose all communication, production, and shipping to many locations in various states. Approximately 50 percent of our sales are beyond our region, and the balance is in Cape Girardeau and surrounding areas. Deadlines, are critical in this industry Customers expect on-time delivery

Tim Johnson, the Penzel Construction Company job superintendent, Joe Perez of AmérenUE, and Shawn McCarthy of Dutch Electric were able to avoid any interruption of our business. After we closed for the week on Friday March 23, Shawn of Dutch Electric and their group of eight electricians worked until 10:15 p.m. Shawn and his associates returned on Saturday March 24, at 7a.m. and completed the task at 1:25 p.m. We resumed our workweek at 7 a.m. oz Monday morning.

We appreciate the great performance of the employees of these great corporations. Thank God for the "free enterprise" system. I can't imagine three bureaucratic government agencies even coming close to this superb performance.
